In addition to being a licensed CPA, Natalie is licensed to practice law in Mississippi. During her professional career, she has worked in public accounting and practiced law at a Jackson area firm specializing in tax, business, and estate planning matters.

TURNER INDUCTED TO HALL OF FAME

The 2021 Patterson School of Accountancy Hall of Fame inductee was Mr. Jon C. Turner. He has served on the PSOA Professional Advisory Council for many years and is currently serving on the steering committee for the campaign to construct the new accountancy building. He and his wife Pam have endowed an Accountancy Leadership Scholarship.

Jon has been active as an advisor and mentor to Kappa Alpha and was awarded its highest honor, the "Knight Commander's Award" by the group's national organization and honored as "Alumnus of the Year" by the active chapter, who later named the award for him. At KA's 150-year celebration in 2015, he received the Distinguished Service Award, recognized as being the most impactful alumnus in the history of the Ole Miss chapter.

Jon and his wife, the former Pam Mills, reside in Jackson. They have two daughters, who are also Ole Miss grads, and six grandchildren.

UPDATE from State Auditor Shad White

As you probably know, our long-time Deputy State Auditor Pat Dendy just retired. It was well-deserved. With 30+ years of service, Pat was a great leader and asset to state government. He will certainly be missed.

This raises the question of how the Office of the State Auditor will operate in a post-Pat world. The answer is that we will go back to a structure that more closely mirrors how state law imagined the office.

In the statutes, there are two division leaders that are mentioned specifically: the head of Finance & Compliance and the head of Investigations. Starting this month, the directors of those divisions (Stephanie Palmertree and Larry Ware) will have the title Deputy State Auditor. For those of you who communicated with the office, any sort of general questions you may have that you typically took to Pat can be brought to Charles Woods, my Chief of Staff.

As always, if you have any questions about what spending is or is not allowed with taxpayer funds, you can reach out to Tom Chain and the Technical Assistance Division. Stephanie will be your resource for audit findings. Larry's shop will continue to field your tips and whistleblower complaints about potential illegal activity. Our office number for all these individuals is still 1-800-321-1275.

Thank you!

CPA Evolution Transition POLICY ANNOUNCED

The Uniform CPA Examination is changing significantly in January 2024. It is important to understand this initiative and the upcoming changes to the CPA Exam to fully understand how it might impact the journey to CPA licensure. If a candidate passes and retains credit for all four CPA Exam sections by December 31, 2023, the changes to the CPA Exam will NOT impact the journey. If the candidate is still working through the CPA Exam in January 2024 and beyond, then the information about the CPA Evolution-aligned CPA Exam (the 2024 CPA Exam) and transition policy are most important to understand.

The transition policy is quite simple. Candidates who have credit for AUD, FAR or REG on the current CPA Exam will not need to take the corresponding new core section of AUD, FAR or REG on the 2024 CPA Exam. Candidates who have credit for BEC on the current CPA Exam will not need to take any of the three discipline sections.

If, however, a candidate loses credit for AUD, FAR or REG after December 31, 2023, they then must take the corresponding new Core section of AUD, FAR or REG. A candidate who loses credit for BEC after December 31, 2023, must select one of the three Discipline sections to be tested. It is important to note that none of the sections of the current CPA Exam will be available for testing after December 31, 2023. There is a hard cutover from the current CPA Exam sections to the 2024 CPA Exam sections on the January 2024 launch.

The following chart lays out the transition policy for each Exam section.
